The V4250D-U3, based on the NEC V423, is a high-performance, large-format display integrated with Dispersive Signal Technology. It is ideal in applications that require extended use, such as restaurants and retail stores, and its integrated temperature sensors and fans ensure the longevity of the display in such environments. It also features built-in speakers, an Open Pluggable Specification (OPS)-compliant slot, and LED backlighting. Call our sales team at (512) 846-2424 for more information.
